

Letter of Appreciation for an Exceptional Experience at BPMMQ-2025

Dear Organizing Team,

A huge thank you to everyone who ensured a wonderful and memorable experience awaited us. The entire journey was seamlessly coordinated, and we faced absolutely no difficulties on our way to Kalpakkam. We would like to extend a special note of gratitude to Dr. Manjusha Madam and the VNIT team Nagpur Chapter for providing us with this incredible opportunity.

Our stay at the Anupuram Guest House was exceptionally comfortable. The authorities were available around the clock, promptly addressing even the smallest concerns we had. Special thanks to Mr. B. Aashranth; we are immensely grateful for your kindness, guidance, and unwavering support..

thoroughly fascinated.

.The visit to IGCAR for the Metal Camp was undoubtedly the most wholesome part of our trip. It was inspiring to learn about our eminent scientists, including Dr. Homi J. Bhabha, Dr. Vikram Sarabhai, and Dr. Brahm Prakash. We thoroughly enjoyed learning about the facilities and reactors, and we felt incredibly fortunate to tour them in person. As many would say, it was truly a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. The scientists explained everything so lucidly that we were able to grasp complex concepts while remaining

The quiz itself was enthralling. Each question prompted us to reflect on groundbreaking developments, research, technologies, and equipment. It even highlighted simple, everyday materials that we often overlook but which hold immense significance. The experience reminded us of and deepened our respect for the vital role of materials science in our lives. The diverse variety of rounds during the grand finale made the competition even more intriguing.

The highly anticipated BPMMQ lecture by Dr. Murty was a definitive highlight. His talk covered a vast array of topics, teaching us not only about space and technology but also about the importance of national development and self-reliance (Aatmanirbharta)

During our return journey, the team once again ensured that we reached home safely and comfortably. Seeing the authorities present in person to bid us farewell was a heartwarming gesture. Every arrangement throughout the event was incredibly thoughtful.

We have finally, with wonderful memories, new learning and immense admiration for the way this event was conducted. It inspire confidence and sense of belonging and we all feel privileged to have been a part of it. Our teachers and principal highly appreciated the standard of the event. We sincerely hope that our Junior College will have the opportunity to participate in BPMMQ again next year.

We have returned with wonderful memories, invaluable knowledge, and immense admiration for how beautifully this event was conducted. It has inspired confidence and a strong sense of belonging within us, and we all feel privileged to have been a part of it.
Warm regards and deep appreciation,

Mrs. Erena Sayankar
Hislop Junior College, Nagpur Chapter